

“Feed or Raid?”
Your Association’s Piggy Bank in Troubled
Times

Practical Suggestions From a Legal Perspective to Help Associations in Dealing with Ongoing Issues, Particularly in the Current Economy

Joel S. Corwin, Speaker

JOEL S. CORWIN, of Law Offices of Joel S. Corwin, has practiced business law since 1974. He represents corporate, association and other nonprofit and business clients with respect to their legal needs, most often acting as general counsel for his clients. He can be reached at (866) 207-5000 or jcorwin@corwinlaw.us.

©Copyright 2009, Joel S. Corwin. All rights reserved.

The information contained in this outline is not, nor is it intended to be, legal advice. You should consult an attorney for individual advice regarding your own situation.

Practical Suggestions From a Legal Perspective

- Helping Clients Prioritize
Their Legal Needs

JOEL S. CORWIN, of Law Offices of Joel S. Corwin, has practiced business law since 1974. He represents corporate, association and other nonprofit and business clients with respect to their legal needs, most often acting as general counsel for his clients. He can be reached at (866) 207-5000 or jcorwin@corwinlaw.us.

©Copyright 2009, Joel S. Corwin. All rights reserved.

The information contained in this outline is not, nor is it intended to be, legal advice. You should consult an attorney for individual advice regarding your own situation.

Practical Suggestions From a Legal Perspective

- Avoiding Missteps in Partnering with Other Organizations

JOEL S. CORWIN, of Law Offices of Joel S. Corwin, has practiced business law since 1974. He represents corporate, association and other nonprofit and business clients with respect to their legal needs, most often acting as general counsel for his clients. He can be reached at (866) 207-5000 or jcorwin@corwinlaw.us.

©Copyright 2009, Joel S. Corwin. All rights reserved.

The information contained in this outline is not, nor is it intended to be, legal advice. You should consult an attorney for individual advice regarding your own situation.

Practical Suggestions From a Legal Perspective

- Reminding Clients of Resources Which Will Help Them Contain Costs

JOEL S. CORWIN, of Law Offices of Joel S. Corwin, has practiced business law since 1974. He represents corporate, association and other nonprofit and business clients with respect to their legal needs, most often acting as general counsel for his clients. He can be reached at (866) 207-5000 or jcorwin@corwinlaw.us.

©Copyright 2009, Joel S. Corwin. All rights reserved.

The information contained in this outline is not, nor is it intended to be, legal advice. You should consult an attorney for individual advice regarding your own situation.

Practical Suggestions From a Legal Perspective

- Dealing with Employment
Law Issues

JOEL S. CORWIN, of Law Offices of Joel S. Corwin, has practiced business law since 1974. He represents corporate, association and other nonprofit and business clients with respect to their legal needs, most often acting as general counsel for his clients. He can be reached at (866) 207-5000 or jcorwin@corwinlaw.us.

©Copyright 2009, Joel S. Corwin. All rights reserved.

The information contained in this outline is not, nor is it intended to be, legal advice. You should consult an attorney for individual advice regarding your own situation.

Practical Suggestions From a Legal Perspective

- Reviewing Fiduciary Duties of Directors and Officers including Duties to Creditors while in a “Zone of Insolvency”

JOEL S. CORWIN, of Law Offices of Joel S. Corwin, has practiced business law since 1974. He represents corporate, association and other nonprofit and business clients with respect to their legal needs, most often acting as general counsel for his clients. He can be reached at (866) 207-5000 or jcorwin@corwinlaw.us.

©Copyright 2009, Joel S. Corwin. All rights reserved.

The information contained in this outline is not, nor is it intended to be, legal advice. You should consult an attorney for individual advice regarding your own situation.

Practical Suggestions From a Legal Perspective

- Providing Financial Relief
Where Appropriate to Help
Clients Through Troubled
Times

JOEL S. CORWIN, of Law Offices of Joel S. Corwin, has practiced business law since 1974. He represents corporate, association and other nonprofit and business clients with respect to their legal needs, most often acting as general counsel for his clients. He can be reached at (866) 207-5000 or jcorwin@corwinlaw.us.

©Copyright 2009, Joel S. Corwin. All rights reserved.

The information contained in this outline is not, nor is it intended to be, legal advice. You should consult an attorney for individual advice regarding your own situation.